Lecture.

The temperance lecture to-night at the Capitol will be a treat. The lecturer, we see it stated, is an orator of great power and eloquence.

In the City.

Mr. Walter Muir, representing the extensive drug house of A. B. Sands & Co., New York, is now in Atlanta.

Mr. C. O. Nathans, of Nathans Bros., importers of brandy and distillers, is also visiting the city.

Georgia increased more last year in the value of its property than in any previous year in its history. The increase is estimated at $20,000,000.

Ninety thousand dollars more subscription to the capital stock of the Northeastern R. R. wanted. A little son of Mr. John Richards, living near Princeton, died very suddenly on Thursday last. He complained of a severe pain in his head, and in a few minutes was a corpse.—Athens Watchman.

A party of gentlemen from Sandersville went gunning on Saturday last, and killed 20 snipe some 15 doves and a few rabbits thrown in for good measure. Not a bird was shot on the ground. The most of the party took lessons in shooting, some years back, under that grand old master of the art, Robt. E. Lee.—Sandersville Georgian.

The indications are that the Columbus manufactories will consume this season 6,000 bales of cotton, worth, at 20 cents per pound, or $100 per bale, $600,000 in the raw and more than $1,200,000 in the manufactured state. So our factories are worth, clear, $600,000 to our city—or, at least, the value of the cotton is increased that much by the production of the commonest goods. The majority of the fabrics quadruple the value, which would increase the value to millions. Columbus Sun.

Major Zack Hargrove arrived in Rome yesterday with the appointment of Deputy Collector of Revenue in his pocket; vice Wells & Whittemore, resigned or removed. We were informed yesterday that Col. Pennington had commenced erecting shanties for the accommodation of the workmen who will commence the Memphis Branch Road in a few days. Dr. J. W. Hicks, of this city, has been appointed Assistant Engineer on construction of the Mobile, New Orleans and Texas Railroad. Dr. Hicks will leave immediately for New Orleans.—Rome Commercial.

Messrs. Washburn & Silva disposed at auction yesterday, of the entire assets of the old Farmers' and Mechanics' Bank. What once represented hundreds of thousand of dollars was disposed of for a trifle, as will be seen by the following catalogue of sale: $100,000 State of Georgia Confederate bonds, for $72 50. $52,000 Confederate States bonds, for $5; $70,000 4 per cent. Confederate scrip, for $3 50; $24,000 7-30 Confederate notes, for $2; $17,000 Confederate States and State of Georgia notes, for $4 25; $67,000 Confederate States vouchers and coupons, for $30; a lot of old bills receivable for $80. Also an estate sale, viz.: $9,000 Confederate currency, for $2; $10,000 State of Georgia bonds, Confederate, for 16 50; a lot of old notes, for $5.—Savannah Advertiser.

Among the many other good features of Walton, one which has always struck us forcibly is the ability of her county officers. For this she has been long distinguished. Beginning with her veteran Ordinary, the venerable Judge Jesse Mitchell, who held the office as long ago as 1825, she may challenge comparison with any other county. The Clerk of the Superior Court John P. Edwards, Esq., though not equal in years to the Ordinary, has held the position a long time, and like our own Superior Court Clerk, is regarded as one of the most efficient county officers in the State. The Sheriff, (Jimmy Moore) though a young man, is distinguished for fidelity in the discharge of his duties, while his Deputies, Judge Ivey and John M. Ammons, have been long and favorably known as faithful public servants. The Tax Receiver and Collector is also prompt and faithful in the discharge of his duties. So that, taking it altogether, Walton is hard to beat.—Athens Watchman.

☞ The English fashion of weddings is becoming quite popular in New York. The bride is attended at church by six bridesmaids, who walk in couples up the aisle, there being groomsmen. There are also six ushers, who, after the ceremony, take the place of groomsmen, and conduct the bridesmaids from the church. The bride walks up the aisle with her father, and the groom waits for her at the altar steps, having entered previously at side door.

OUR LAGRANGE LETTER.

Crops in that Section—The Farmers—Education—The LaGrange Colleges The Female College and all About It

LAGRANGE, February 29, 1872.

Editors Constitution: Your correspondent has been a resident of this beautiful and pleasant little city for more than a year past. Official duties render it impracticable to cultivate the acquaintance of the people to any very great extent, as I travel through some six counties every two or three months. Nevertheless, I may tell you something that I see and know.

The farmers are very backward, but very busy. The freedmen are generally reported to be doing well for them. Much cotton is to be planted. Scarcely any wheat is grown in parts of the counties I go through: Troup, Harris, Meriwether, Coweta, especially press the cotton culture. Corn, rye, oats, barley, clover, wheat, are secondary considerations. Less will be grown than usual this season, owing to the low price of bacon and corn, (when compared with the price of cotton.) The farming is done better than it was some years ago, but it is generally far from scientific now. There are some scientific farmers in this section. Plowing up and down the hill, ignoring hill-side ditching and horizontal furrows is yet done by some with gullied, bald, red, hills staring the ploughman in the face. This is not the rule in this country, however. There is some manufacturing of cotton gins and railroad cars in this section, but very little, comparatively.

But one thing the towns, villages, cities, and people generally are alive to: that is education. First class schools at Newnan, LaGrange, West Point, Hogansville, Senoia, Palmetto, Grantville, Greenville—in town, in country, the schoolmaster is ahead. Here, at LaGrange, there are three institutions of learning—two for females and one for males. The male school is well officered by competent teachers, and is carrying forward boys and young men to any desired attainment in mathematics, the languages, Latin, Greek, French and German, and bellesletters. It is a capital school of preparation for any class in college.

Mr. I. F. Cox has an excellent female school, which is under the control of the Baptists. He has given it the name of an institution located here before the war. The North Georgia Conference and the Methodists of LaGrange own jointly a long established, well known and honored college—the LaGrange Female College. It was purchased from the Messrs. Montgomery in 1856 for $40,000. Unfortunately the elegant stone edifice was destroyed by fire, but a commodious, well arranged brick building is now used. A very massive, splendid structure being built during the war had to be abandoned, and is yet unfinished. It will be one of the most expensive and elegant buildings for educational purposes in Georgia when it is completed. Rev. Dr. Calloway was elected Latin professor at Emory College about middle of December, and consequently most unexpectedly resigned the Presidency of the institution. But the trustees fortunately secured the services of the talented and accomplished Rev. E. P. Birch, and a full corps of eight professors and teachers. The institution has opened its spring term most satisfactorily, having sustained but little loss from the disorganization temporarily produced by the sudden and unexpected resignation of its former succesful and honored President. The number of its pupils is steadily increasing. Its boarding department is ample, and in excellent hands. No female college offers superior advantages. A large number of persons have come to LaGrange to enjoy her educational facilities. They have acted wisely. When her new railroads are completed, and her cotton factories, wagon factories, bucket factories, plough factories, foundries, and other industries are set in operation, she will be a city indeed.

COSMOPOLITAN.

THE LATE FISK.

The Sale of His Horses and Canary Birds--What They Brought and What He Did with His Birds.

NEW YORK, February 29, 1872.

Editors Constitution: On yesterday the stud of the late Jim Fisk was sold at executor's sale. The sale was largely attended, and horses, carriages, blankets, robes, etc., aggregated the snug sum of fifty thousand dollars.

But the strange feature in the sale was that nothing brought anything like cost.

The horse upon which the renowned Colonel won military glory at the head of the Ninth Regiment, known as Blucher, which cost Fisk $2,500, sold for $330. His favorite carriage pair brought $1,060. Saddle horses sold from $500 to $750.

To-day I attended the sale of Fisk's canary birds; about two-hundred and fifty were sold with their cages—plain brass-wire cages—bringing from eight to twenty-two dollars per bird, with cage, which originally cost about seven dollars. A music box in the form of a steamboat was sold, bringing the large sum of fifteen hundred dollars. Immediately after the last named article was knocked off, a beautiful bust of Fisk in bronze, which must have cost a large sum, was offered for sale and brought the pitiful sum of fifteen dollars.

Canary birds seem to have been more appreciated than this splendid likeness of the clever, bad, bad, man.

Fisk is passing away and his name will soon be forgotten in Gotham, but his works will live on but not for good.

Your readers may naturally inquire what this strange man did with such a number of birds. Their use was various. Sometimes they sang for Sabbath School children at their picnics. At other times their gilded cages decorated the steamboat Plymouth Rock, plying between this city and Long Branch. At other times their innocent notes might be heard in the palace of the up-town courtesan.

Strange, strange man! But justice will never be done his memory. He will, so long as he is spoken of at all, be either over praised or too much abused.

Yours truly, J. R. H.

Curing Tobacco.—An entirely new mode of curing tobacco has been introduced this season, and so far with considerable success. Under ordinary circumstances in this climate, the tobacco crop of 1871 would not be ready for use until the fall of the year, the hot summer months being necessary to bring it to a proper degree of perfection. To avoid this delay an enterprising firm has shipped a large cargo of tobacco to a warm climate, where it will receive the same degree of heat through the winter months as it would receive here in summer. For this purpose purchases were made early in the season of the finest tobacco in the market, and it was shipped to a port near Havana. The value of the tobacco thus shipped is about $100,000, and those in charge report that it is curing finely.—New York Bulletin.

A Contrast.

It cost, under Andrew Johnson in 1867, but 3 15-16 per cent. of internal revenue to collect. It cost, under Grant in 1871, 5 per cent.

Yet Johnson's administration is declared to have been corrupt and profligate by these Grant fellows.

Boutwell a Humbug.

A writer in the New York World shows how Boutwell is deceiving the country about his alleged reduction of the public debt. He claims that the reduction of the debt is a swindle. He shows that the interest on the debt has only decreased $5,000,000 in two years; that the principal of the debt is but $39,66',225 less than it was in 1868, while Boutwell falsely claims it to have been reduced nearly $300,000,000.

The Public Debt.

The National debt is divided into three classes, viz.: debt bearing coin interest, currency interest, and no interest. The first class embraces the five and six per cent. bonds. The second class, the three and four per cent. certificates, and navy pension fund at three per cent. The third class, demand and legal tender notes, fractional currency, and coin certificates.

Southern Young Men Going to New York for Business.

A writer in the New York Journal of Commerce alludes to the great notion Southern young men have for going to New York to get into business, and advises against it.

He says that New York is filled with Southern salesmen, and hardly one in fifty who get places make more than a scanty support. Old salesmen of twenty years standing have laid up nothing.

He says most urgently that our young men must stay at home. So say we.

We have enough for all our Southern young men to do. We have every element of strength and wealth. We have ample scope for labor and capital. We have a broad arena for ambition and enterprise.

We need our young men. We have use for every bright brain and strong arm.

We have fine lands and growing cities. Our young men owe a duty to the South to restore our desolated farms and revive our defunct industries.

We reiterate, our young men should stay at home.

What it Costs to Publish the Debates in Congress.

The gab of our Congressmen in 1871 cost the country $472,776 98. This should be charged up under the head of the National gas bill.

This gab occupied 13 8 4¼ columns of printed matter 22¼ inches long each. This makes 26,721 feet of talk, 2¼ inches wide, or a solid current of chat 5 1-10 miles long. Think of that! What an immense batch of sense and folly, buncombe and rhodomontade, dense areas of platitudes, rivers of partizan venom, and acres of rancorous personality.

Putting these debates in another aspect, there were just 8 967 yards of them, costing the people precisely $47 50 a yard. Pretty costly talk! We imagine the job could be done much better and cheaper.

The members are entitled to two copies each of the Congressional Globe at public cost. This makes 646 copies at a cost of $13,630 78. Then, 305 more copies are furnished at public cost to the Departments and libraries of the government, making an aggregate of 951 dead-heads at a government expense of $19,844 51.

We have not included in the $472,798 67 the subsequent costs of binding, etc. This runs the whole bill for the 41st Congress to $353,296 98.

In 1796 the cost of reporting the debates was $8,000. In 1833 the present Globe was established by Blair & Rives.

Rives & Bailey are the present proprietors of the Globe.

The Congressmen pay $30,000 a year for extra copies of their speeches to send to their friends and for distribution as campaign documents.

The present Congress is trying to cut down the gas bill, and proposes to reduce its cost to $316,752 29.

This will be a good move, and it is to be hoped it will be successful.

Saturday seems, by general consent, to be grand gas field day, when few members attend, and big speeches are let off. The Globe for this day is the huge one. It is fat with flowing tirades. Members get permission to print their manuscript in the Globe without delivering them. They are thus consigned to the tomb. The members get extra copies and frank them to their admiring and deluded constituents, who read them under the pleasing hallucination that they were spouted to listening Senators and enraptured Congressmen, with a liberal sprinkling of attendants in the galleries.

Verily, these Congressmen are happy fellows. The pleasing fiction of debate must be very soothing.

Congressman Speer, of Georgia, has one of these undelivered addresses sepulchred in a recent Globe, and of course is happy.

The Broad Gauge Railway as the Means of Development.

Having given the arguments in favor of the narrow gauge as the means of development, we will now give those in favor of the broad gauge, in order that our readers may decide intelligently upon the gauge question, as applied to proposed lines from this point. All will admit the importance of the question, as connected with the future of our city; hence no one can possibly object to a full discussion of the subject.

The leading argument in favor of the broad gauge for our proposed lines of railway is a uniformity of gauge, thereby avoiding the transfer of freights and passengers at connecting and terminal points.

This continuous unbroken gauge is an advantage in the transmission of through freights which the narrow gauge does not nor cannot possess until it has been so far extended as to become a general system.

That they are well adapted for local purposes there can be no doubt, and as the system is extended it is not improbable that they will take the place of the broad gauge, or in other words as their merits, namely small cost and low rates, are fully understood and appreciated, that many of the broad gauge lines will be changed to narrow gauge. But the importance of a continuous unbroken gauge should not be overlooked, especially when we take into consideration interests beyond us, as well as that of the road itself.

But the interests beyond us and in a measure foreign to us, and that of the railway, although identical, may not be, in fact are not, in unison with those of Atlanta.

If the several railways having termini in Atlanta were each of a different gauge it would benefit us largely.

With this view of the case, if our proposed line be built broad gauge, thereby forming a continuous line with those east of us, it would in all probability pass a large business through Atlanta, which, if the gauge were broken, might be controlled by her merchants.

This, then, is a question of vital importance to Atlanta. The time and expense of the the transfer of freights by the narrow gauge is, or may be, avoided by the broad gauge by running through trains; witness the Green Line.

It should, however, be borne in mind that the reduced cost at which the narrow gauge can transport freight, may more than compensate the shipper for the slight delays in transhipment.

It is claimed that the broad gauge has a greater carrying capacity than the narrow gauge. If we admit this claim, it then only becomes necessary to inquire whether it has not a greater capacity than our wants demand, and whether in building railways of this class, we are not investing an unnecessary amount of money, and thereby entailing high rates upon the industries of the country, and in a measure retarding development rather than accelerating. Indeed it is a serious question whether we did not make a great mistake originally in adopting as broad gauge as we have done.

We presume no one will dispute the fact that our Southern broad gauge roads possess a capacity much greater than the wants of our section demand, and in this connection it remains for us to decide whether having committed so costly a mistake we shall continue to perpetrate it.

If an error, it has certainly been a very costly one, and in our present poverty-stricken condition it would be folly on our part to repeat it.

The whole argument then turns upon the point, first, whether Atlanta has the ability to build, own and control a broad gauge line, with its high rates; and, secondly, if able to do so, whether a cheap narrow gauge, with its low rates to and from Atlanta, will not advance her interests more surely and rapidly than the more costly broad gauge.

While it is true that a continuous, cheap narrow gauge line from Atlanta to Eastport on the Tennessee River, connecting with steamers at that point for all parts of the West and Northwest by cheap water transportation, having only one transfer, and piercing the great mineral belt of Alabama, via Birmingham, with its cheap rates on Western produce, coal and iron, would place Atlanta merchants and manufactures on a secure footing, enabling them to set competition at defiance; we should nevertheless give the broad gauge, with its connections through and beyond Atlanta, and its ability to transport freights for Augusta, Macon, Savannah, Columbus, Montgomery, and every station on the various lines, without breaking bulk at this point, a full and fair consideration.

We have thus presented the main arguments in favor of the two gauges. We are not wedded to either system, and only desire the merits of both fully discussed, in order that a wise conclusion may be reached and Atlanta's future progress made secure.

DOLLINGER AND HYACINTHE.

A Graphic Sketch and Contrast of the two Great Papal Infallibility Opponents.

In the second number of the Esperance de Rome "Un Ancien Catholique" draws a parallel between two of the principal antagonists of Pius IX.'s new dogma of Papal infallibility:

"Dollinger is the head of the Catholic reform, Hyacinthe the heart. How admirable are these men in their dissemblance! In the reform movement, as in the order of nature, it was the heart which first sent its efflux of life into the catholic world. I refer to the memorable letter which Father Hyacinthe two years ago flshed from his convent cell, in which, prophet like, he predicted all the troubles of the Vatican Council, and protested against all its decisions, as though he had received the order from God himself. As the heart is enclosed within the body, so this impulse of life remained hidden, although present in the council. * * * A parallel between these two eminent men, drawn by one who knows them well, will not be without interest. The great theologian of Germany is reserved, calm, even sometimes to a point of coldness, generally serene, and always hopeful. The great Frenchman is affable and liberal in his speech, unusually sensitive, and carrying always with him an atmosphere of melancholy hope. Dollinger is never troubled by events, be they lucky or unlucky; Hyacinthe rejoices and suffers with every one. The simple, solid features of Dollinger denote an intellect at once elevated and positive; the ascetic visage of Hyacinthe (he does not look so in Rome) reveals the mystical tendency of his soul. Dollinger has nothing of the priest in his exterior, and very little of a religious character, but his manners are noble and distinguished; he presents the real type of a professor of historical science. Father Hyacinthe, on the contrary, is a priest by nature; the sacerdotal character shows itself as clearly through his lay garments as through his Carmelite robe and cloak; he is not a devotee, but he is pious. In conversation Dollinger talks but little and with simplicity; his discourse is always forcible, rarely eloquent. Hyacinthe is always eloquent. Dollinger is often absent, and sometimes brusque. Hyacinthe is always attentive and always gentle. Both have the simplicity of youth. The greatness of Dollinger consists in his learning and in his uprightness; the greatness of Hyacynthe is in his charity and in his conscience. Dollinger is passive in his convictions, and is content with resisting evil; Hyacinthe is active and feels the necessity of protesting against injustice. Dollinger would correct error by reason and logic; Hyacinthe would effect the reform by demonstration and example. Dollinger is exclusively German; he has an entire faith in German ideas and an absolute trust in the institutions of his country. Hyacinthe is essentially French in his qualities, but cosmopolite in his sympathy. He loves France more than all other nations, but he loves humanity even better than his country. Dollinger has a benevolent esteem for all mankind, but it is Germany alone that he loves. The life which Dolinger leads is that of a sage; his house that of a savant. Elegant simplicity and immaculate cleanliness reign throughout his apartments; the only evidence of wealth is in the books and paintings. He is very hospitable and seldom dines alone. His meal is good, but not sumptuous. His habits are simple, almost austere. He rises at five in the morning, and soon after commences work; for his breakfast he takes a cup of coffee, with a little bread, and until one o'clock in the day is continually employed. Then comes the hour of dinner, at which he drinks neither wine, beer nor tea. He is very fond of conversing with his guests. After dinner he receives his visitors, and notwithstanding their great number and his immense amount of occupation, he finds time to see all those who seek him. Towards four or five o'clock he sets out for a walk, which sometimes lasts three hours, and which often carries him far into the country, at the risk of fatiguing his companion. He sups towards seven in the evening. He is seventy-three years of age, supple and vigorous, and looks much younger than he is. 'I am old,' said he to me one day, 'and I shall not live long enough to see all this, but what has begun well must end well;' this will be a radical reform of the Church. I am certain of it."

☞ A PIOUS RHODE ISLANDER HAS HIT upon the happy thought of printing on the reverse of our national paper currency appropriate scriptural texts, such, for instance as that concerning the impossibility of simultaneously serving God and mammon, or Paul's pertinent remark, "save these bonds." Whether these religious documents are intended, like ordinary tracts, for gratuitous distribution amongst the poor, we are not informed; but if they be merely meant to follow the natural course of exchange, and revert to the Treasury Department, their new indorsement is not likely to lead to redemption, either pecuniary or psychological. Now a happier thought than this would be the placing of certificates or testimonials of the virtues of the Weed Sewing Machine upon every bank note issued, and the people could be directed to the corner of Broad and Marietta streets, Atlanta, where the Machines could be seen.

INDEX TO NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.—See report of the condition of the Atlanta National Bank.

Read advertisement of Mark W. Johnson.

A grand sale of diamonds, jewelry, watches, etc., begins at Mayson's Live Auction Mart to-night.

Mayson has an extensive sale of furniture at the Live Auction Mart to-morrow night.

A gentleman wants two or three rooms for housekeeping.

A family wants a white woman to nurse and do general house work.

Tallula Fire Company meet at their engine at nine o'clock this morning to attend the funeral of policeman M. W. Rasberry.

E. A. Werner is offering extra family mackerel at reduced rates to close out the lot.

Elegant Oil Chromos are being opened at Mayson's Live Auction Mart.

Wright, Schmidt & Co., want to find an owner for seventy sacks of Land Plaster stored in their warehouse.

Wright Schmidt & Co., have Pearl Grits and Pearl Hominy for sale to the trade.

See legal notice of Judge D. C. Minor, Ordinary of Fayette county.

Be sure and read the notice of the Weed Sewing Machine Company.

See legal notice of Sheriff of Fayette county.

RESUMED.—Work on the new Station House has been resumed.

FURNITURE AT AUCTION.—Mayson has an extensive auction sale of furniture at the Live Auction Mart to-morrow morning.

MARK W. JOHNSON.—The advertisement of Mark W. Johnson will attract the attention of our readers at once. Be sure and read it carefully.

WANTED.—Attention is called to the notice of "wanted." The family desiring to obtain a good nurse is one of the best in the city.

AMONGST the great variety of novelties opening now at the London Store will be found very stylish Corsnets for the Hair.

JEWELRY.—To-night will be commenced at Mayson's Live Auction Mart the sale of Diamonds, Gold and Silver Watches, Jewelry, etc. The ladies are invited to call and examine the stock to-day.

W. B DOBBINS.—Consumption has claimed another victim in our midst in W. B. Dobbins, son of Miles G. Dobbins, Esq. His funeral takes place at ten o'clock this morning.

ATLANTA NATIONAL BANK.—We call special attention to the report of the condition of the Atlanta National Bank. The showing is a fine one. This institution is excellently managed.

EDUCATIONAL.—The teachers of the colored schools were paid off by the city yesterday. Superintendent Mallon, of the public schools, has, we learn, received $2,000 of the Peabody fund for the city.

A BARGAIN.—Ed. A. Werner, the energetic agent of the Georgia Railroad, offers for sale cheap six half barrels extra family mackerel, condemned for slight damage to barrels only. Hasheries, eyes right!

AMENDE HONORABLE.—By a Lapsus Pennæ yesterday morning we spoke of Col. Volney Dunning as sleeping agent. We hasten to make the amende, as Vol. Dunning is known to be a wide awake Sleeping Car agent.

A PIE-OUS THIEF.—A colored individual yesterday stole a lot of pies from John Peel. While theft is always reprehensible, yet we must be permitted to say that John Peel's pies are not hard to take; in fact the trouble is to refrain from taking them.

TEMPERANCE LECTURE.—A fair audience greeted Dr. Hickman, of Kentucky, in Representative Hall last night. Dr. Hickman is a fluent and eloquent speaker, and invested the subject of Temperance with renewed charms.

GEORGIA SENDS HER LOVE TO ALABAMA.—The Georgia Medical Association has sent a representative to the Alabama Medical Society, which convenes at Huntsville on the 2[illegible]th instant—Dr. W. A. Love, of this city. Thus will Georgia show her Love to Alabama.

W. M. & R. J. LOWRY.—The Messrs. Lowry, are among the best business men in Atlanta, and the most reliable gentlemen. Any orders sent to them will be attended to just the same as if the purchaser was present himself. They also do a large banking business.—Rough Rice's Reporter.

ST LUKE'S.—Our readers will bear in mind the concert for the benefit of St. Luke's Parish, comes off to-night at the corner of Walton and Forsyth streets. The programme for the occasion is an excellent one, and we can safely assure all that attend a rich treat.

THE WESTERN AND ATLANTIC RAILROAD.—This road is doing a very heavy business, both in passengers and freight. Under its present efficient management, it will be a source of honor and profit to the State. The road is in better condition than it has been for years. The present competent Supervisor, Mr. Dooly, informs us that he has fifteen miles of [illegible] dug for the purpose of putting up a telegraph line expressly for the road. There will be nothing left undone to facilitate the interest of the road.—Rough Rice's Reporter.

THAT DIAMOND PIN.—Bettie and Carrie Richardson, (col.) had a preliminary hearing yesterday before Justice Butt, on the charge of taking a breastpin from Miss Amanda Parker, valued at $100. The evidence was that the pin was worth about $5, and that Bettie said to the policeman who arrested her, that it was for taking that pin out of the Commercial Building. The warrant was dismissed as to Carrie, and Bettie was bound in $50 to appear at the City Court. J. A. Stephens represented the prosecution, and R. H. Jeffries the defendants.

PENITENTIARY CONVICTS.—We understand that Grant, Alexander & Co., the lessees of the penitentiary convicts, executed their bond to Gov. Smith yesterday in the sum of $80,000 for the faithful performance of their duty. Their securities are J. F. Orme, G. W. Adair and L. P. Grant. The principals and securities are supposed to be worth about $[illegible]000. The Governor has made a favorable disposition of the convicts, and it would not be a bad thing for the State and its depleted Treasury if the contract could be extended for five or ten years.

CONTINUED.—At 2 P. M. yesterday Penn Bedell was brought before Justices Butt and Smith for a preliminary hearing, on the charge of assault with intent to murder policeman Rasberry. Major S. B. Spencer and Colonel N. J. Hammond appeared for the prosecution, and Messrs. Gartrell & Stephens, Hill & Candler and Hulsey & Tigner for the defendant. By consent the case was continued until [illegible] o'clock to-day to allow the State to summon Mr. W. A. Wylie, of Macon, and T. W. Butner, Deputy Sheriff of Houston county, as witnesses. A large crowd was in the court room.

FLOATING.—It is said that one of our City Fathers resides in one ward and represents another ward. Who she?

A handsome and fascinating widow has broke the hearts of fifteen susceptible young men, and still she is not happy.

It is said that the parents of marriageable young ladies have established a rule that if young ladies pay attentions to their sons and don't "pop" at the third visit, to charge them for the gas bills.

Messrs. Stephens & Flynn have a new brand of flour called "Women's Rights." Will it be constantly on the rise?

SUPREME COURT OF GEORGIA, March 7, 1872.—Argument of the injunction, No. 6, Flint Circuit, set for the heel of the Macon Circuit, was concluded.

The Court then began the call of the Flint Circuit regularly.

The continued case of Jos O. Davis, Sr., vs. John W. Cox and Henry Banks—equity, from Spalding—was argued. Speer & Beck, for plaintiff in error, Peeples & Stewart, contra.

The next continued cause. Thos. McKibbon, et. al. vs. John J. Folds. Equity from Butts—was dismissed, because not certified in time. Doyal & Nunnally, Peeples & Stewart for plaintiff in error. D. J. Bailey, by Z. D. Harrison, contra.

I am overstocked in this line of goods, owing to a little Revenue Irregularity in the conduction of my Liquor business, about four weeks ago which is now entirely removed, I became overstocked. I am determined to sell it low, and will, until my stock is reduced to its usual standard, duplicate any Bill bought either in Augusta, Savannah or Charleston, to any one wishing to BUY FOR CASH.

Grant, the Governor ... port the nominee of the Cincinnati ... tion if General Grant is nominated at Philadelphia. I am unqualifiedly and determinedly opposed to General Grant's re-election as President of the United States."

His reason for opposing Grant is that he supported the Federal officials in Louisiana in their efforts to destroy the State government.

Warmouth further said: "If under any circumstances I consented to become a candidate for re-election, it would be as a reformer on the reform platform."

A letter has been received from the Chairman of the National Republican Committee, reorganizing the Republican Committee of which Marshall Packard is Chairman as the only regular Republican organization in Louisiana.

FRANCE.

PARIS, March 6.—Mons. Lanton, editor of the Corsaire, fought a duel to-day with Mons. Rogat, of the Pays. The latter was twice wounded.

Sig. Mignetti is expected here shortly, on a private mission from the King of Italy, to Thiers, concerning the Roman question.

In the Assembly to-day, the report of the committee confirming the election of Rouher, from Corsica, was agreed to.

The debate was continued on the bill imposing penalties for any connection with the International Society.

Louis Blanc declared that the passage of such a measure would throw France back three centuries.

During the sitting the question was proposed to the government by M. Quirand, an Orleanist, with regard to the resignation of Ponyer Quertier. The introduction of this inquiry was followed by prolonged excitement and uproar.

Mornay warmly praised the conduct of the late Minister of Finance and demanded explanations. The government declined to make immediate reply, as the usual notice had not been given, but promised to answer on Saturday.

Another ministerial crisis is expected, as it is evident that a conflict between the Assembly and government is at hand.

PRUSSIA.

BERLIN, March 6.—The upper house of the Prussian Diet has under consideration the school instruction bill, and during the debate to-day Prince Bismarck made a significant speech. He expressed his fear of the disloyal influences of the Catholic clergy, and insisted on a clause providing for the introduction of the German language into Polish schools. He assured the Conservatives that the Government did not intend to break with their party, but that it would not submit to pressure.

Donations granted by the Emperor on the anniversary entry into Paris, have given rise to much comment on account of the largeness of the sums disposed of by the said Prince Charles. Generals Moltke, Roon, Mantenfel, and Duke of Bavaria, each received three hundred thousand thalers. Gen. Geoben and Minister Delbruck two hundred thousand. Twelve others one hundred and fifty thousand each. Generals Fabrik and Blumenthal and others, were proportionally remembered.

CUBA.

NOON DISPATCHES.

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, March 7.—The Senate has passed the bill giving Raleigh, North Carolina, money for public buildings.

House proceedings unimportant.

The Senate arms committee convened and invited Schurz and Sumner to attend and ask questions. Schurz appeared and the Secretary of War was placed on the stand. His evidence indicates irregularities if not violations of law in officials' orders in the sale of arms to France.

NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, March 7.—At a riot in Jersey City, at Wilson's Bouaves, at a colored ball, a negro was shot and a policeman's thumb bitten off.

It is stated that nearly every Justice of Westchester county has been indicted for retaining county money. One has been arrested and held for trial in the sum of $5,000 bail.

It is rumored that the relief goods for the Chicago sufferers were stolen or lost in the general order warehouses of this city.

OHIO.

CINCINNATI, March 7.—A fire at the wharf destroyed the following boats with their cargoes: Champion, Argossy, St. Charles, Kate Robinson, May Anderson, Abconialso, and damaging the immense New Orleans wharf boat. Other boats were removed by the tugs. The fire orignated on the St. Charles. The Captain and some others jumped overboard and swam ashore. Some were lost. ON EVERYBODY'S TONGUE.—Eulogiums of the great national regenerator of health, Plantation Bitters, are on everybody's tongue. This gratuitous viva voce advertising is better than all the paid for puffing to which the owners of bogus bitters are obliged to resort. It has a spontaneous heartiness about it which carries conviction to the mind of the auditor. But it is a well known fact that the proprietors of the Plantation Bitters have never relied upon newspaper bolstering to establish the success of a preparation which owes its astonishing popularity mainly to the oral testimony of the thousands who have either experienced or been the eye witness of the immense physical good it has wrought throughout the length and breadth of the land.

THIS is no apology for whisky drinking; it is a medicine that cannot be used to intoxicate; it produces a tonic effect, as well as acts as a cathartic. In fact, Simmons' Liver Regulator is pronounced an unexceptionable medicine.

POISONED TO DEATH.—A healthy liver secretes each day about two and a half pounds of bile, which contains a great amount of waste material taken from the blood. When the liver becomes torpid or congested, it fails to eliminate this vast amount of noxious substance, which therefore remains to poison the blood and be conveyed into every part of the system. What must be the condition of the blood when it is receiving and retaining each day two and a half pounds of poison? Nature tries to work off this poison through other channels and organs—the kidneys, lungs, skin, etc.; but these organs become overtaxed in performing this labor, in addition to their natural functions, and cannot long withstand this pressure, but becomes variously diseased.

The brain, which is the great electrical centre of all vitality, is unduly stimulated by the unhealthy blood which passes to and from the heart, and it fails to perform its office healthfully. Hence the symptoms of bile poisoning, which are dullness, headache, incapacity to keep the mind on any subject, impairment of memory, dizzy, sleepy, or nervous feeling, gloomy forebodings, and irritability of temper. The blood itself being diseased as it forms the sweat upon the surface of the skin, it is so irritating and poisonous that it produces discolored brown spots, pimples, blotches and other eruptions, sores, boils and scrofulous tumors. The stomach, bowels and other oagans spoken of, cannot escape becoming affected sooner or later, and costiveness, piles, dropsy, dyspepsia, diarrhœa, female weakness and many other forms of chronic disease, are among the necessary results. As a remedy for all these various manifestations of disease. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is positively unequaled. By it the liver and stomach are changed to an active, healthy state, the appetite regulated and restored, the blood and secretions thoroughly purified and enriched, and the whole system renovated and built up anew. Sold by all first-class druggists.

ATLANTA

City Hospital.

THE need of a CITY HOSPITAL for Atlanta has long been felt, but all efforts heretofore for the establishment of such have failed, our people being too poor to raise the money necessary for such a purpose, and the depleted condition of our State Treasury being such as to render successful legislation in the matter both impracticable and hopeless.

It is, therefore, proposed to appeal to all friends of so benevolent a project, and thus secure a nucleus to encourage an increase of the private donations already promised, which will render the scheme a success; and while the erection of such an Institution will be an enduring Monument to the Charity and Liberality of our citizens, it will also be in keeping with our onward march in the cause of Civilization and Progress.

For every Two Dollars subscribed, an equal interest will be given the holder of Certificate thereof in the distribution of $75,000 Worth of Property,

Numbering 1,500 Articles

To be distributed by the Board of Commissioners as soon as all the Shares are taken.

50,000 Shares

—AT—

$2.00 Each $100,000

The value of the separate interest to which the holder of certificate will be entitled will be determined by the Commissioners who will announce to the public the manner, the time, and the place of distribution.

The following gentlemen are to act as Commissioners, and will receive and take proper charge of the money for the Hospital, and will determine upon the plan and site for the same, to-wit:

L. H. ORME, M. D.,
J. F. ALEXANDER, M. D.,
E. S. RAY, M. D.

All friends to our benevolent object are requested to aid our Manager as much as possible in the arduous labor devolving upon him. Send for circular.

EDWARD WEEMAN, Manager,
P. O. Box 201.
